

THE Peanut
1957

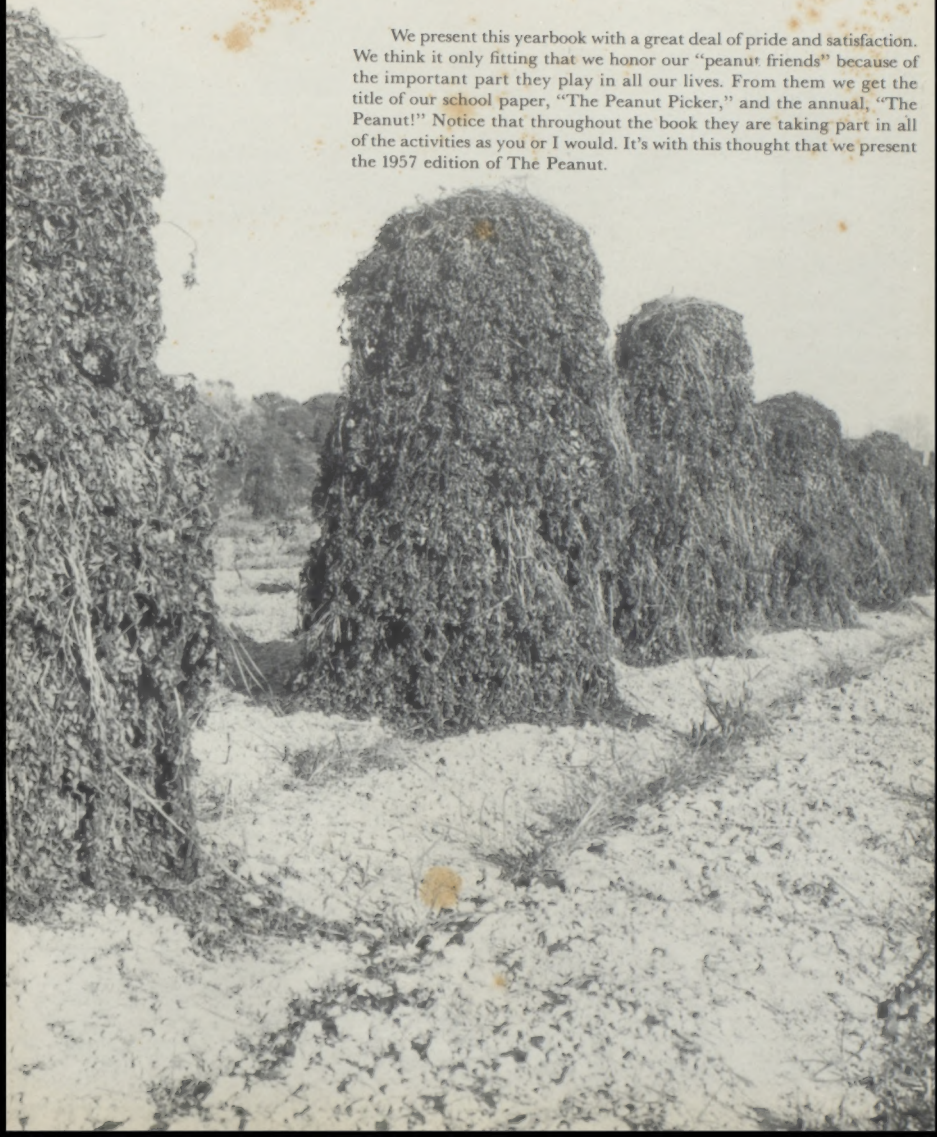

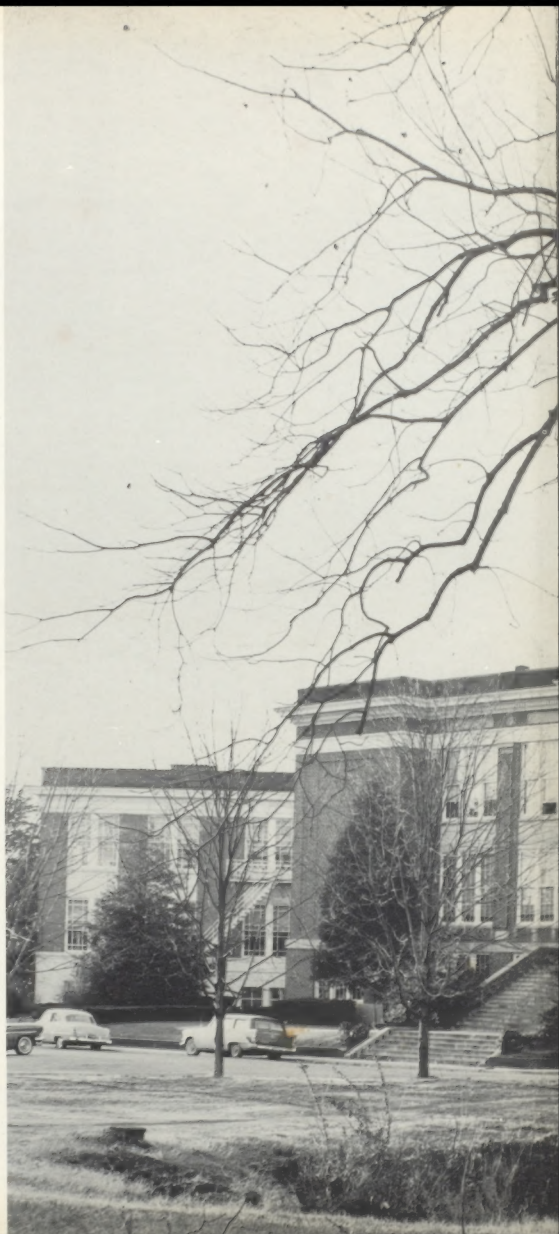

FOREWORD

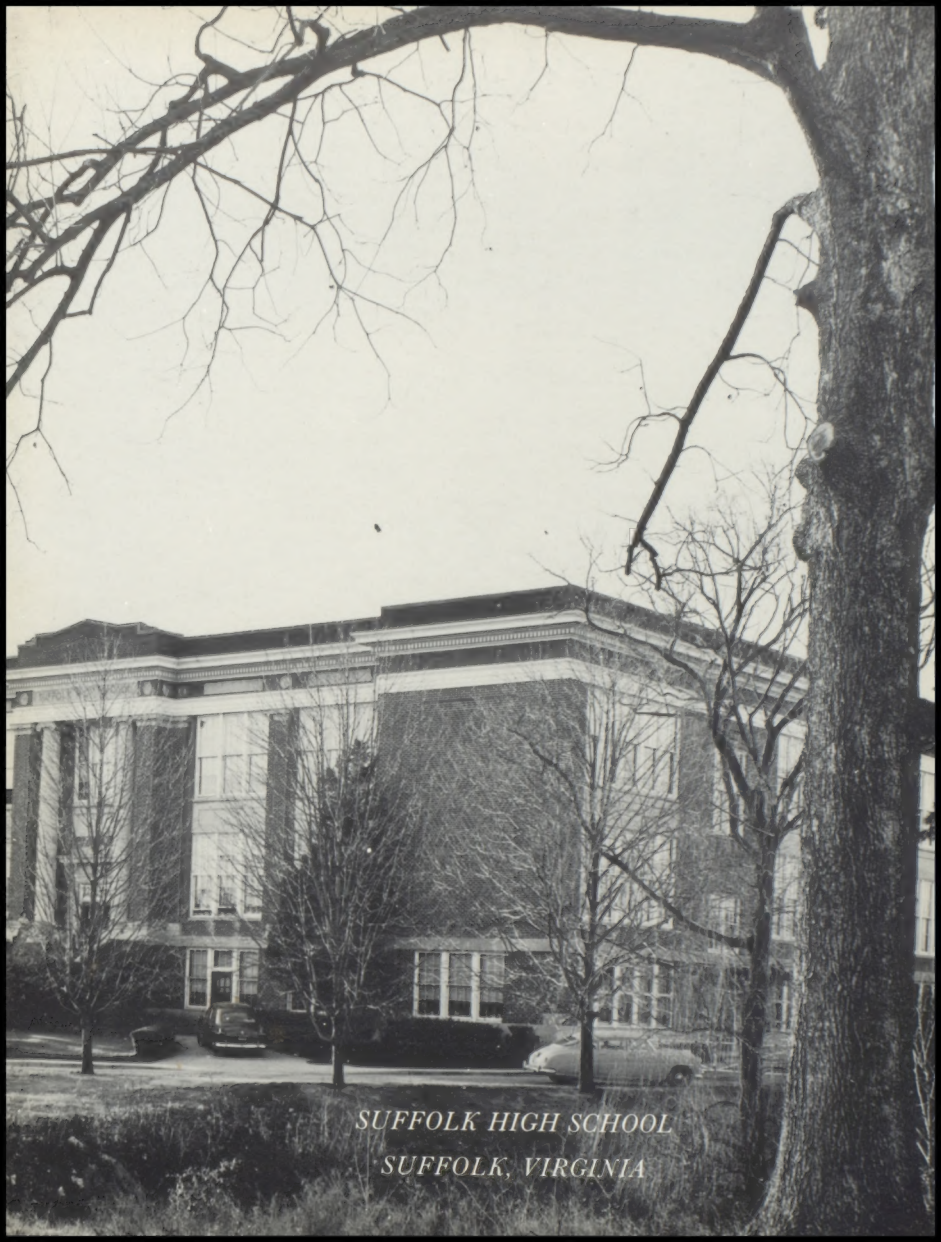

We present this yearbook with a great deal of pride and satisfaction. We think it only fitting that we honor our "peanut friends" because of the important part they play in all our lives. From them we get the title of our school paper, "The Peanut Picker," and the annual, "The Peanut!" Notice that throughout the book they are taking part in all of the activities as you or I would. It's with this thought that we present the 1957 edition of The Peanut.

Dedication

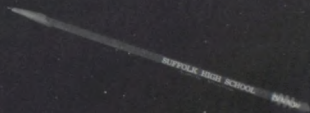

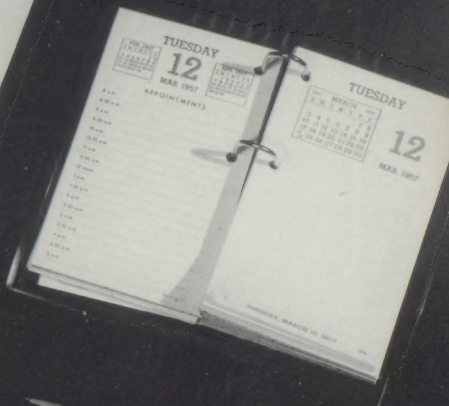

"Quisque dat optimum pro bono omnium." This is truly Miss Virginia Brinkley's personal motto as she has given her best to better and further the work of S. H. S. One of the students' favorite teachers, Miss Brinkley has also worked endlessly on The Peanut as business sponsor for many years. She is known throughout the school for her wonderful sense of humor and outstanding teaching ability. We jointly dedicate the Thirty-fifth Volume of The Peanut to Miss Virginia Brinkley with a deep sense of gratitude for all she has done for us.

Excellent teacher + dependability + keen wit + knowing smile + someone in whom you can confide + someone always "busy as a bee" = our one and only Mrs. Ann H. Burton, to whom we jointly dedicate the Thirty-fifth Volume of The Peanut. Having worked so hard and faithfully as Editorial Sponsor of The Peanut for so many years, she decided to "take a vacation." The Annual Staff will always have a place in their hearts for such an outstanding person.

Assembly Shots

Ooh-la-la! A glimpse of gay Parlee gives our boys "oomph!"

These "YOUNG LADIES" almost stole the show in their debut as cheerleaders.

Come on Raiders! That's the Spirit!

Our Pep Band really added extra pep to our assemblies this year!

VICTORY!

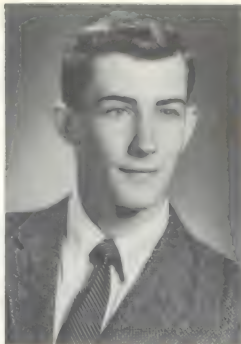

Our busson buddies lead the cheers.

WE, THE PEOPLE

The Senate Officers make plans for the coming year.

The empty desks tell us there is a Senate Meeting. This also means our home-room representatives come at eight thirty and are now "in conference" in the library. After the meeting, they will give the students a full report of their activities, their plans, and an idea of just what S.H.S. needs. Our Student Senate leaders this year are George Birdsong, president; Roberta Baker, vice-president; Sue Benton, secretary; and their adviser is Mr. Brockwell. Their fine leadership has proved the merits of our Student Senate.

on the completion of your studies as a high school student.

Schooldays are truly happy days — and it is the sincere wish of all of us, that you

May the instruction and leadership of your teachers these past years, guide you

tions in the years to come.

It is our hope that you set your goals
high and through the guidance of a true
